

ITALYANCE TRIPOLOIS ADVANCE ON TURKEY

FIRST EDITION

BOSTON AMERICAN

VOL. 8—No. 191. BOSTON, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1911. PRICE ONE CENT.

INVASION OF CITY ORDERED TO BEGIN TODAY

ROME, Sept. 29.—The occupation of Tripoli by Italian troops and marines is likely to be accomplished today. Late reports say Turkey has refused the demands of Italy.

A cordon of Italian warships is drawn along the coast. Orders to the commander of the squadron off the town of Tripoli to land men are expected to be sent within a few hours.

Transports loaded with troops are lying in the stream at several Italian ports.

The Italian people are clamoring for war. Turkey's refusal to grant the Italian demands has been met with the declaration that a decisive response must be given through the Ottoman Embassy at Rome at once. Failing this, war will follow.

ITALY PLANS TO STRIKE EARLY AND HARD

Turkey is fighting for delay. Italian leaders away, the coast giving free scope of action to the Italian fleet. Turkish leaders are watching the town of Tripoli with interest.

It is known in Constantinople that the Italian fleet is now in the harbor of Tripoli and is waiting for orders to land.

STRANGE CHARGE IN THEFT CASE

Attorney Clarence W. Rogers today charged that if Miss Virginia Jacobs, daughter of his client, Nathan Jacobs, a well-known Boston tailor, assisted in robbing her father's safe of $2,000 in cash and jewelry in the Jacobs' residence, at No. 529 Newbury street, Brookline, she is alleged to have been charged with the robbery, she must have been hypnotized.

Rogers, whose real name is thought to be Randall, is said to be a member of a prominent New York family. He is held for a hearing in the Municipal Court today, but it is believed Mr. Jacobs will bring a writ of habeas corpus.

Back of the robbery is said to be a story of a young girl who loved jewelry, automobiles, etc., and a young man who found her house too small to accommodate her whims. Rogers, whose name is thought to be Randall, is said to be a member of a prominent New York family. He is held for a hearing in the Municipal Court today, but it is believed Mr. Jacobs will bring a writ of habeas corpus.

The Sunday American's New Magazine.

OCTOBER 1, 1911
AMERICAN SUNDAY MAGAZINE
Section Boston American

A photographic reproduction, greatly reduced in size, of the colored art cover of the new magazine given free with every copy of next Sunday's AMERICAN.

NEXT Sunday the "big battalions" of Sunday AMERICAN readers, from Boston to Biddeford and across the State to the New York line, will be given a treat that will be a real letter event in the annals of Boston newspaperdom.

Each reader of the Sunday AMERICAN, when he buys his paper, will find with it, as an added feature, a complete magazine, which will take him a week to enjoy.

The AMERICAN is proud of its ability to present this magazine to its legion of Sunday readers.

And popular opinion will endorse that pride next Sunday morning in every home of this city and throughout the Commonwealth.

Art and fiction, philosophic writing, delightful miscellany and superb illustration are the features of the AMERICAN'S Sunday Magazine.

It will be a welcome visitor in every household.

So great will be the public quest for this fair debutante of Boston's fourth estate that no newsdealer can afford to say "all gone" too early in the day.

On the other hand the people themselves must do their share, and, early in the day, procure a copy, for there is a limit, even to the Sunday AMERICAN'S productive powers, enormous as they have grown to be.

The last six years have seen many progressive steps taken in the newspaper enterprise of Boston. Strange though it may appear to some, the well spring of progress has been found to be beneath the AMERICAN office on Summer street.

New ideas, steady league steps along the highway of enterprise and progress, are stamped upon the history of this newspaper.

The AMERICAN'S Sunday Magazine, bright, breezy, educative and entertaining, as its every page will be, marks a forward step, longer and more decisive than any taken since the huge presses of the AMERICAN first began to whirl.

DARTMOUTH FOR GABY DESLAYS

TECH FRESHMEN ARE SAFE NOW

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 29.—The Gaby Deslays number of the Dartmouth "Tech Freshmen" is the comic monthly of that college, in the latest call in progressive college publications. The college has humors which yesterday to students of the little for publication to advertise and publish a number in his name. She immediately entered into the spirit of the game and wired them a long day letter of good wishes and cooperation.

No more hazing of "fresh houses" at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is the device planned down by the class of 1914 at its meeting. This action was taken in an attempt to abolish the ancient custom of hazing the freshmen residents of the college. The freshmen residents of the college were to be held in the class building where they will be held in the freshmen house, the 1915 freshmen, a therefore exposed to be in his class in the freshmen house and need fear no hazing in the freshmen house.

Pictures from her are forthcoming. All day long there was an eager, laughing crowd of students about the window of the "Jack O'Lantern" special office, where the telegrams from Gaby, pictures, notes and press accounts advertised the impending Gaby Deslays number.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN

PARK STREET GAMBLE

by MORTON BIRGE

I have watched the Park street gambler's board where lighted numbers glow. But I haven't learned the system of the chap who makes 'em go.

The illuminated sign-board flashes on "8" for a "fourteen cent" one flash through the mob to berth 8. One is hounded and darts ahead. Then a "2" shows up. One scrambles up the line to berth 2. And that's all you have to do to become a gambler.

I have played those illuminated numbers through the mob's dimmed train. But the House is always winner. It's a high percentage game.

First I tried a ten-to-one shot on a tip that "4" would win.

But I broke the game long ago. Number 7 was next, and I was out.

Next I landed a "4" and "1" playing about "Was I not a gambler?"

"4" and "1" was what developed. Since I wasn't in the line.

Then I tried a caution course, "4" to kick off from the "1".

But the gambler's "English" was a bit too much for me.

I drew for "4" and "1" and "2" and "3" and "4" and "5" and "6" and "7" and "8" and "9" and "10" and "11" and "12" and "13" and "14" and "15" and "16" and "17" and "18" and "19" and "20" and "21" and SUNDAY AMERICAN

The Facts in the Sugar Situation

THE American Sugar Refining Company, which refines 42 per cent of the sugar used in the United States, realizes that the advance in the price of sugar is of deep concern to every consumer. Pursuant to the policy of its present management, as announced in its annual report of January 1, 1911, it recognizes "the legitimate interest which the public has in a business organization which deals in a necessity of life, and desires to do so in the most efficient manner and at the lowest possible cost."

World's raw sugars short

The crop just harvested in Cuba shows a shortage of about 300,000 tons from the previous crop, a direct loss in our supplies, as these sugars come to the United States almost exclusively.

Long-continued heat and drought in Europe, corresponding closely to the untoward summer weather conditions in this country, have so seriously impaired the growing beet sugar crops of France, Germany and Austria that estimates indicate a reduction of 1,500,000 tons or more—over one-fifth—in the supplies of Europe.

This threatened scarcity has caused excessive speculation in Europe and has advanced the sugar prices at London and Hamburg—the leading sugar markets of the world—1½ cents per pound since June 15, while growers of cane sugar, in the face of an anxious demand and a certain shortage in the beet product, have similarly advanced the price of their product over 2 cents per pound in the same period.

We produce no raw sugar

The American Sugar Refining Company does not own an acre of cane sugar land, nor does it produce a pound of raw sugar; it depends for its supplies of raw sugar upon the growers of Cuba, Porto Rico, the Philippines, Hawaii, Java and other sugar countries.

It has, in common with all other refiners at home and abroad, been compelled to secure its supplies from these sources at constantly advancing prices.

On June 15 raw sugar could be secured at 3.89c. per pound. The corresponding price now is 5.96c. per pound. On the June date this company was selling granulated sugar at 4.90c. per pound net, while our price since September 11 has been 6.62c. per pound net.

As regards our policy, it will be seen from these prices that our margin between raw and refined sugar has at no time been excessive.

We believe it only just to add that the grocery trade of the country has likewise maintained a fair parity to the consumer.

Our prices under competitors'

During the use our prices have ruled lower than our competitors, having been from ¼ to ¾ cents per pound below the quotations of other refiners.

We share the hope that every consumer undoubtedly entertains that the loss in Europe has been exaggerated (the actual figures cannot be known before December or January), and that the calls upon what are almost exclusively American supplies of raw sugar will gradually diminish.

Happily the domestic sugar crops promise good yields, and with their harvesting, which has already commenced and which will be in full progress in October, the present tension should disappear.

In the meantime, our policy as regards a reasonable margin over raw sugar prices will be continued; it is dictated not only by a recognition of our peculiar relationship to the welfare of the country's households, but also by good business, for any decided check in consumption with a profit margin as narrow as that in sugar refining could only occasion heavy losses to all refiners.

Would You Marry a Woman Out of Curiosity?

One man did. The woman was rich and charming and she sold herself to him just as his tailor might have sold him a suit of clothes. To this unkind, loveless bride and her husband came 57 different kinds of trouble—and then an amazing thing happened.

You can read all about it in "Why?" the absorbing new love serial by Elinor Glyn, author of "Three Weeks."

It's the most fascinating, most daring novel Mrs. Glyn ever wrote, and it will appear, with dozens of other surprises, in

INFLAMMATION AND PAIN

Cared by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

I was troubled for long time with inflammation and pain. I tried many remedies but nothing helped me. I then tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after a few days I felt better. I continued to use it and in a short time I was completely cured. I can now do my own work and feel as well as ever. I am sure that every woman who suffers from these troubles will find relief in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Thousands of isolated and suffering women, all over the world, have proved the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have been restored to health by the Pinkham medicine. Inquire among them and see. Many would not have a testimonial published, but would talk about their cure to another woman.

Adventures of Piute Pete

By MILES OVERHOLT

"YES, I used to be a preacher in a country village, said Photo-Pete, as he removed his hat and took the "bless a minute." "But I was in a town where still no one might say 'blessing' without a remonstrance (the same regularly as it does now, I suppose), and, somehow, I don't believe it is as much of a bad word as a remonstrance. I turned it into resignation. I preached a little sermon something like this:

"My friends," said, "I'm resigning my resignation with this sermon. I ought say that I am yielding my sermon with the resignation. It is the only sermon I have ever preached, and possesses other than that I brought to the field with me. The field, as I go to preach, is about the unrecruited patch of earth over which I am to preach. I do not see how I can be as productive of crops as a sowing seed. You have ennobled the word 'safari' from your vocabularies. I have said it and said it well. I have seen another with safari it."

"I am preaching to you on the Golden Rule text; also on an empty stomach. I have labored here six months and my daily fare has consisted of bacon and repentance for breakfast, cabbage and righteousness for lunch and prayers and apple sauce for the evening meal."

"In a few moments I shall leave here and walk down the railroad track and secure a position from the section foreman, and when you ring in another victim to point out the straight and narrow way I will come up here and drop a dollar in his hat with a low, mellow plunk, and then I will stop long enough to say "Fudge." Then I will leave through the back track."

"Those are about the words I used. I understand the church has burned down since then, however, I don't know whether the lightning struck it or whether the match I dropped onto a pile of shavings and kerosene in the basement caused the conflagration."

✧ The Season

— BY WEX JONES

AT last the Summer season's gone—
The straw hats look very cloudy.
The bathing suit's no longer on.
Exit the street car very thin.
The weather now is very thin,
Though not so warm as Summer.
Free have about a nice cold skin.
Hot today is the corner.
Hay fever subjects sneeze and cough.
Their noses feel so tickly.
The wise folks take their thin ones off
And don the kind that's prickly.

The overcoat we bought last year
"The style that can't be beaten"
We find is looking very queer—
The sort that's not fashionable.
The theatres are light again.
With jobs for all the actors.
Though some should be inside the pen
As male malefactors
In short, the Summer days are past.
We must admit it, fellows;
And Fall has caught us up at last
With rubbers and umbrellas.
